PASTORS' CAMP 2015: SUMMER RAIN

We had a blast with the tag team of David and Matt Tapley ministering in word and Captain D aka: Dawson Phillips leading in worship. There were moments where the presence of God was so tangible nobody wanted to move or speak. Here are a few take aways from the sessions. "There's no app for Holy Spirit." "What He was to the early church He will be to the church today." "It's not your title, it's your fruit." "Miracles are not for our recreation and entertainment." "It's not your ability, it's your anointing." "People are looking for leadership." Always a good time in Gilmour.

CUBA WITH LOVE

Working with the Cuban Assemblies of God, we are raising money over the next three months to purchase houses in Cuba. They will be used as a home for the Pastor and a church for the congregation. We can buy and renovate each of these houses for $3000-$4000 Canadian dollars. Would you consider investing in the spiritual growth of Cuba?

UPCOMING MISSIONS TRIPS

THOUGHTS FROM MY JOURNAL

- God knows more than Google.
- Spiritual welfare is connected to spiritual warfare
- Now that you're equipped, evangelize.
  - We have become way to dependent on human resources
  - Your character needs to surpass your gifts.

HARVEST PRINCIPLES

The Great Commission has a Church.
The Church exists for its non-members.
The Church is the hope of the community.

GREAT BEAR RAIN FOREST

Late August a team of five men and myself set sail from Campbell River, BC, on SonSeeker IV to travel along the intercostal waters of Vancouver Island for ten days. What an adventure on so many levels. Not only did we see the beauty of God's handiwork day after day but we experienced His incredible leading and love. We saw seals, sea lions, whales and dolphins, caught salmon, trapped crab and prawns. Loved it! Arriving in Port Hardy the plan was to purchase a few supplies and check out what time Service was in the morning. We were not expecting to be in service that night but God had other plans! Church was on and the worship was sweet. Twenty minutes later I was preaching and the boys were back from shopping. What a night in the presence of God. Sunday we had two services with the same results, declaration and demonstration. Before leaving for Bella Bella Monday morning, we had a skillet breakfast compliments of Pastor George while a young evangelist, Randy, rapped the Book of Revelation. So cool! We arrived in Bella Bella Wednesday evening and met with Pastor Glenna on Friday loaded with bags, knapsacks and a shopping cart full of gifts. As I chatted with Pastor, the men went to work setting out the gifts on a table from cash to basketballs, to bibles, school supplies and frozen salmon. Pastor Glenna was overwhelmed as six strangers blessed her with what others had blessed us with. We prayed with her, hugged her, and were on our way. It's amazing how a few moments of blessing allows the days of travel to make sense. I was asked to describe in a sentence what this trip was all about. For me, it's still the worth of a soul whether it is a crew member, a guy that lives in a hostel in Port Hardy, a First Nations Pastor or an angry young man that swears at you from his balcony. The value of a soul is still worth more than the whole world.

Pastor Glenna taking a moment to survey what had been given.

JULY IN REVIEW

Over the summer I had the privilege of traveling in six Canadian Provinces from Nova Scotia to British Columbia. What a joy to preach camp meetings in Ontario, Manitoba, and Quebec and pray with hundreds for healing, baptism and salvation. The highlight of July was our time along the South Shore of the Gaspé Peninsula. Working in conjunction with Every Home for Christ, who mailed literature and concert invitations into 19,300 homes, as well as, provided posters, Facebook and media ads along with a follow-up website. God put together a fantastic team consisting of bands, children's specialists, sound tech and translators. We hosted Concerts of Hope in Chandler, New Carlisle and New Richmond. To-date we have received over 700 responses for follow-up either to accept Christ, receive a devotional or pastoral visit. With the mailing, social media, concerts, radio, and newspaper the exposure to the Gospel and the local church would be well over 50,000 people. Looking back on this Outreach I'm reminded that we can use the day-to-day experiences of life to share faith. There seems to be a heightened spiritual sensitivity for the unsaved while on a Missions trip. Maybe the familiar, routine, same old, has dulled our senses to the unsaved where we live. I am convinced that evangelism was never meant to be simply an event but a lifestyle.
